3. Recommendation to City Council regarding final approval of the MRA Plan Update
Commissioner Tanis acknowledged the work and diligence that has been accomplished on the MRA Plan. Ms. Tanis pointed out some issues with exhibit C-33 on rental rate and vacancy trends, and the information section below the C-34 graph. She said most of the typos that she had mentioned previously have been changed, but not all of them. Ms. Tanis recommended that those issues be addressed. Liza Miller clarified the changes Ms. Tanis was asking for.
Commissioner Dykeman said he spent time on the section about historic preservation. Mr. Dykeman pointed out a technical problem with the map on B-20. He said the Thomas Jefferson Arrington house is not shown correctly on the map. The Hopkins place is also not shown correctly on the map. Mr. Dykeman suggested the Thomas Jefferson house should be listed as the Thomas Jefferson Arrington house or the Arrington house.

Commissioner Mills pointed out a discrepancy in the percentages of exhibit B-11 on page B-27. Other typos were mentioned on pages B-35, C-14, C-37, D-3.

Commissioner McNally noted that the document reads better and she appreciates the edits that have been made. Various minor revisions were noted. Ms. McNally mentioned an issue with the color scheme on exhibit B-7. She asked that the legend be clarified concerning 'parks'.

4. Downtown Complete Streets Update-Sherry Roach

Sherry Roach said the site furnishings recommendations for design elements were given to MRWM on January 31, 2019. She has asked MRWM Consultants to have the development of the design elements ready so this item can be added to the MRA March 19, 2019 agenda.

The off-site signage design is on schedule. Ms. Roach said a portion of these plans will be submitted to NMDOT, New Mexico Department of Transportation, to receive approval for several signs proposed to be placed in the NMDOT right-of-way.

The City Electric Department started upgrades in the alleys on January 24, 2019. They are making improvements to the design and have been able to eliminate power outages to the downtown businesses during the process.

BRP classes began February 11, 2019. Attendance was good. The next meeting is on March 18, 2019 and will focus on social media.

The Downtown newsletter goes out biweekly and discusses events, construction status, and new businesses in the downtown area.

Ms. Roach said she attended a pavement management meeting with the City Public Works Department. She presented tentative projects in the downtown area for this year. Ms. Roach mentioned several water line improvements and capital improvement projects downtown, resurfacing and annual pavement maintenance, as well as storm system repair projects.
For the Complete Streets Project, plans for grading and drainage will be ready by early March. By mid-May 90% plans should be ready, and 100% plans by July 4.

Right-of-way plats are in the process of field investigation. A storm water pollution prevention plan should be ready by August.

Commissioner McNally asked to have access to the draft proposal so the Commissioners can see what is included in the scope of work. Ms. Roach said she would be able to provide the draft.

5. Downtown Farmington Updates

Michael Bulloch said he did a series of Shop Small promotions on social media for Valentine’s Day.

Mr. Bulloch said he has not yet been able to meet with Ivan Lee on an Art in the Alley project for a mural for the alley side of HQ, 119 W. Main. He mentioned that John Cogan has expressed interest in painting a mural.

New panels for the Historic Photo Mural were received for the Downtown Junkers Pocket Park, but were damaged again during shipping. New Mexico MainStreet and the New Mexico Resiliency Alliance have been very understanding about the unforeseen delays.
